Interested in knowing about a huge scholarship opportunity for your graduate?

The Central Okanagan Bursary & Scholarship Society (COBSS) is a volunteer-driven charitable foundation serving the Central Okanagan region. Their mission is to support Grade 12 graduates in pursing their educational goals by providing financial assistance for post-secondary education.

Each year, they partner with generous donors—including local community groups, businesses, and individuals—to offer over 500 scholarships and bursaries. COBSS serves as a centralized resource for graduating students to apply for these awards, which recognize a range of achievements, such as community involvement, academic excellence, and athletic dedication.

Alumni parent and COBSS Executive Member, Lorraine Miller, will offer an information session on Wednesday, November 18 at 5pm, for parents of grade 12 students to explain the wonderful opportunities and hundreds of dollars available to our grade 12 students who plan to attend a college, university, or other post-secondary institution starting in the fall of their graduation year.
